(1) Justice tempers pure Love with Truth to provide life's judgements.

(2) Justice without force is impotent; force without justice is tyranny.

(3) It is said: Those who inflict injustice upon others cannot expect fair treatment unto themselves.

(4) It is also said: To take the gold of others is injustice not soon forgotten. Take only thy due.

(5) Take care that the judgements made by thee are in accordance with the will of thine heart.

Cove Guardhouse=Mu Compassion is the most profound of human emotions.

Pure in its intent, it shows itself as a desire to help another in pain.
Only a detested life owes itself to another's suffering.

It is said: Kill not the non-evil beasts of the land, and do not attack the fair people.

It is also said: Give of thy purse to those who beg and thy deed shall not be forgotten.

(1) One alone should still feel love for oneself. If you cannot, ...

(2) You have a longer
journey to make before you can Love others.

(3) How can any Love

one who thinks so little of themselves that they do not Love?

(4) Love truly is necessary if one wishes to be other than alone.
Surely not. It is difficult to be truly alone.

There are those that sacrifice themselves for {Love of a Master. Seek Cah with them.) 5th part?

This settlement long ago became dedicated to Love.
Seek Mu there.

These people enslave mine.
They stole from us what we would have given you.
Seek Beh.

Cah = Tokuno Isuma
Sacrifice is the Courage to give of oneself in the name of Love.

Just as the poor feed their children before they eat, noble acts in this life are rewarded.

Karma says the Sacrifices we make return to us threefold.

It is said: To give of thy life's blood so that others may live is a Virtue of great praise.

Watch for the Sacrifices others make for thee. It is in noticing the small things we are great.
